Pal Kurt Helps Marty In Year-long Recovery

By ANN MELIN

No one was more surprised than 12-year-old Kurt Rathjen was this week when he was named recipient of the Honor Scout Medal, one of the highest awards in scouting usually reserved for more mature Eagle and Life Scouts.

As Troop 31 scoutmaster Shug Bonds was reading off the many accomplishments of the scout about to receive the coveted award, Kurt was busy doing some mental figuring, trying to guess which elder scout belonged to the long list of achievements.

Then Bonds came to the part "...and he stood by the bedside of a friend, who was seriously injured in an accident." There was no more doubt about it for Kurt. "That was me and Marty that Mr. Bonds was talking about," he said.

Marty is Marty Kuhlman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kuhlman and a friend of Kurt's for "ever since I can remember."

Kurt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rathjen of 2400 14th Ave.

When Kurt became the youngest scout in Troop 31's 35-year history to receive the Honor Medal in a ceremony Monday in Amarillo, it was the second big moment in the seventh grader's life when his elders have granted him a privilege not ordinarily given to kids his age.

The other time was two years ago when a physician asked hospital officials to relax their visitation rules and allow Kurt to see his friend, Marty, during the three-month period in which the latter lay in the hospital critically injured after he was struck by an automobile while the two boys were bicycling near the Kuhlman farm.

The accident left Marty with serious head injuries which severely impaired his motor and speech ability. For two out of the three months he was hospitalized, Marty lay unconscious, his weight reduced to an emaciated 30 pounds.

"The doctor thought Kurts being there might bring Marty out of his unconscious stupor," said Mrs. Kuhlman.

Waiting to see his friend for the first time since the accident, Kurt was scared. And he said so. He told Mrs. Kuhlman that he didn't know what to expect when he went into the hospital room. He wasn't sure about what he should say.

As far as either Kurt or Marty's mothers can remember, that was the first and last time that young Rathjen ever showed a sign of fear in confronting Marty.

"It's funny how kids come through sometimes in situations that even adults find are hard to handle," said Mrs. Rathjen. According to her, Kurt demonstrated more "poise" at the bedside of his critically-injured friend than almost anybody.

For the months that Marty lay in the hospital, Kurt seemed to provide the powerful medicine that Marty needed — enthusiasm for living.

Unable to speak at first, Marty followed Rathjen with his eyes. The first time he moved his head it was to watch Kurt move across the room.

Twice a week, Kurt would come up to Marty's room, armed with a bunch of the latest sports magazines. When Marty had progressed a little further, the two boys rounded up all of the teddy bears that lay around the bed and formed two football teams that met each other in weekly games.

Marty had to "learn to talk over again" said his mother, and his first word was the initial expression of most infants — a resounding "No!" that reverberated throughout the halls of the hospital. And nothing brought that negative response more readily as when Kurt revealed some bad news about a game loss by one of the boy's favorite football teams.

The friendship continued after Marty was released from the hos-

Hospital Bonds And Bid Okayed

A Buffalo runner runs and stumbles over a Tulsa Hurricane player during last weekend's West Texas State University versus Tulsa game. The Buffs suffered their worst loss in school history with the 48-3 loss. See story on page 5.

After three years of planning and waiting, board members of the South Randall County Hospital District moved rapidly Monday night to issue $1.1 million in revenue bonds and accept a low bid of $1.4 million for construction of a new Canyon hospital.

Board members first accepted a bid of an average annual interest rate of 6.49 percent from Columbian Securities for the $1.1 million in revenue bonds, then accepted the low bid from Reid and Gary Strickland Construction Co. of Amarillo, and finally authorized Columbian to issue bonds.

Construction on the 50-bed hospital could begin immediately. Completion is anticipated in 440 days from the start of construction.

Board members obviously came Monday night prepared to do business and so did Bob Davis of Columbian Securities, who has acted as financial advisor to the board.

Administrator Ray Grimes pointed out to board members that with the bids taken last Thursday, the district would be forced to spend more than originally anticipated — $800,000 — to finance the hospital. Already, the district has issued $800,000 in tax bonds.

Discussion centered around cutting costs in the bids and whether to secure a conventional bond issue or a Hill-Burton guaranteed revenue issue.

Grimes noted that by computing the low bid, alternate bids and additional fees such as architect's fees, attorney's fees and other fees, the cost of the hospital would be just over the $1.9 million mark.

"We're going to have a need for more than the $800,000 we'd hoped to hold it to," he said, noting that the base construction bid with carpeting, wooden doors and enviro-care units in most of the rooms would make that price $1.666 million.

He said several savings could be had in some areas, but that the price would still be above the price hoped for to allow for issuance of only $800,000 in revenue bonds.

He urged the board to make a quick decision on how to finance the remainder of construction to facilitate a fast start date.

Davis urged the board to take the avenue of issuing private revenue bonds rather than the Hill-Burton guarantee.

He said with revenue bonds, the board could move much faster and construction could begin much sooner.

Davis and Grimes produced some hard statistics which also convinced the board to choose the revenue bonds route.

Based on the interest rate today, the so-called Fannie May rate, Davis said the hospital board could expect to pay an interest rate of about 6.6 per cent for the $1.1 million through the Hill-Burton guarantee.

He offered a bid of 6.49 per cent through his company.

The board accepted his offer.

The bonds will be issued for 20 years with the first payment on the bonds' principal to be made in October 1975.

The average annual debt requirement will be $106,015.

Davis explained that all revenue from the hospital operation would be encumbered to pay the bonds.

"I'm ready to trade with Bob," Board member Vernon Harmon said as he made the motion. "On interest rate, his is a little better. His 20 year bonds are really 19-

Nat'l. Invitation Honors Canyon Band, WT Choir

The Canyon High School band is one of two high school bands from Texas to be invited to play in concert for the national convention of a music educators association in California next March.

Canyon School Board members took action Tuesday night allowing the band to attend the convention of the Musical Educators National Conference in March in Anaheim, Calif.

Band Director J. W. King said the trip might cost as much as $11,000, but that the Canyon Band Parents group and individual students would attempt to raise the money needed outside of regular school funds allocated for trips of this nature.

Dr. Hugh Sanders, director of the West Texas State University Chorale, announced this week that his 58-member group has been invited to perform at the same convention.

It is the second time in recent years that the band under King's direction has been invited to an event of at least national scope. Several years ago the band was invited to play in Europe, but due to finances the group was unable to make that trip.

About 90 to 100 students and four to six chaperones will make the trip to the California convention.

King said he received the invitation last week. He has learned that the CHS band is the only high school concert band from Texas invited to perform. A high school stage band from the state is also invited as well as a college band.

King said the Canyon band was selected for the honor by the group after a tape of the band was sent for review last spring.

"This is a very unusual type honor," School Supt. Jerry Jacobs told Canyon board members Tuesday night after the announcement was made. "It's a real tribute to him and to the band program. Not very many bands will appear out of the 50 states."

The Canyon High choir directed by Tom Jennings was recently invited to sing for the convention of the Texas Music Educators Association in Houston. The board also approved that trip.

In other business Tuesday night, the board laid aside indefinitely a decision on whether to grant a $3000 exemption on homestead property for persons 65 years of age or older.

Jacobs said the board has asked local attorney Elton Cox to investigate whether the school can grant the exemption in light of its bonded indebtedness.

He said the board is not sure it can grant the full $3000 exemption on that portion which would be used for the operating fund or whether the entire

City Buys Riot Gear

The turbulent '60s may be over, but if there's ever a riot in Canyon, city policemen will have the equipment to handle it.

City commissioners approved an application to purchase riot control equipment including gas masks, gas and smoke grenades, flares, a sniper rifle, and riot uniforms for 11 men.

Included for purchase through the application are other items unrelated to riot control — three tape recorders, a telephoto lens for a camera, and $1800 worth of video tape recording equipment.

Total cost of the equipment will be $3949 with the federal government to pay 75 per cent of

University Headcount Increases, But Funds Base Could Be Down

While head count enrollment at West Texas State University showed a healthy 200 student increase this fall over last fall, university officials have said that enrollment could go down in full-time students, a fact which could impact future funding.

Dr. Donald Cates, registrar and dean of admissions, said Tuesday the 12th class day report shows a head count total of 6782 students compared to a head count for a similar period in 1972 of 6575.

But, he warned that those figures may be misleading on a more practical level, the level of funding WTSU can obtain through state formulas, which are based on full-time student equivalents.

Noting that enrollment at the university appears to be up primarily in graduate students and part-time students, Cates said this fact could impact on the fall term full-time student equivalency. With the increase coming from graduate students, the actual full-time equivalency could be down from last fall.

Cates said head count enrollment is down in the freshman class and the sophomore class, while enrollment is up in part-time students and graduates.

"We could be down in full-time student equivalents," he said.

Graduate head count enrollment is up 216 from last fall's count of 781 to a total of 1197 this fall.

The big jump in head count enrollment came from part-time student registration, with 2010 enrolled this year as compared to 1499 enrolled last fall, an increase of 511.

In the various classes, enrollment was down, although only slightly.

Beginning freshmen totalled 1130 this year compared to 1143 last fall. The full freshman class totals 1837 this year compared to 1937 last fall. Enrollment in the sophomore class is down from 1200 last fall to 1138 this year. Junior class enrollment has dipped from 1292 last fall to 1282 this fall. Senior class enrollment took a similar drop from 1334 last

Tally The Eagles Assets, And Mills Is Optimistic

With no real injuries, a team which can run and throw the ball well, and a tight defense, Canyon Eagle Coach Ron Mills is a lot more optimistic this week than he was at this time last year.

While the CHS Eagles are not exactly high-flying, they're maintaining a tree-top altitude against opponents this year and the difference is obvious.

Spirit and a dirth of injuries could prove the worth of the Eagles as they go against their second AAAA opponent of the season Friday night here in their third season outing.

The Eagles meet Caprock's Longhorns of Amarillo at 7:30 p.m. in Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

While the Canyon team made some fundamental mistakes in their last weekend match with Borger's Bulldogs, Coach Mills believes those errors will be shaken out of the team by this weekend.

Nevertheless, the Longhorns will be tough, he allows, and bigger than any team the Eagles are likely to meet this year.

The Eagles spent this week's practice sessions working on the mistakes which led them into a 7-7 tie with Borger, after a season opening victory over the Spearman Lynx.

In Caprock, Mills sees a team which could literally overpower the smaller Eagles.

"They're the biggest team we'll play all year," Mills said. "They average about 210 on the interior line. They beat us by about 40 pounds a man on the offensive line from tackle to tackle."

While the Longhorns are big, they are also aggressive with good speed for their size, Mills said.

"They're not quite as quick as Borger," he said.

Eagle defenders will be trying to read a variety of plays out of a basic I formation Friday night in an attempt to control the ball.

And, they'll be watching the Caprock quarterback, who Mills says is probably the best quarterback the Eagles will have met yet this season.

"He throws well and he's a good runner," Mills said. "He likes to sprint-out passes."

Mills sees the big problem as ball control, a problem the Eagles didn't have against Borger as they kept the ball all but a handful of minutes of the game.

"The big problem will be stopping them and we need to hang onto the football," he said.

The Eagles will go into the game with all hands healthy with the exception of previous starter Andy Grimes, who also sat out Borger's game.

Through two season games, Eagle Quarterback Ed Lair has proven he can hit the target through the air and Mills has come up with a triumvirate of backs who are able to run.

Lair in two games has hit 13 of 23 passes for 289 yards and has run for 30 yards.

Eagle back Gary Bednorz, who had a standout night against Spearman but was keyed by the Bulldogs, has amassed 226 yards rushing.

Adrian Foil, another back, has proven his adeptness at breaking

Modern Math (ugh) Now Due Critical Eye On Accomplishment

Remember modern math? All those nights of poring over junior's arithematic book trying to relate its x's and y's, its sets and subsets, its base numbers with description in polysyllables to the adding and subtracting of the good old days?

You can salve you sore eyeballs and tired brain with the consolation that now modern math is getting a long, hard and critical second look from some of those scholars who jubilantly proclaimed its arrival during the intensified Cold War.

Dr. Ronald Huffstutler, professor of math at West Texas State University, says the problem with new math may not be intrinsic in the new math, but is directly related to the way new math is taught.

The new math has been instituted throughout the educational system and more and more school-age children have been exposed to its rigors, but Huffstutler says that students' facility with math has improved only negligibly.

Even the economists and intellectuals are about to learn that paper money does not solve the ills of a nation.

For decades now self-serving liberal politicians have distributed public funds in payment for power. We are at last beginning to realize that this country is broke.

Its currency has been debauched and America is being exploited by foreign nations who come here and purchase the best of our goods and services leaving the scraps for home folks.

You are beginning to see shelves in stores empty because the goods are in short supply or not available at all.

One leading manufacturer of trucks is more than a year behind in production. Many of our markets are being gobbled up. A Japanese aircraft company — Mitsubishi, maker of the notorious Zero of World War II vintage — now dominates the small business plane industry.

This is not a cry of doom. It is a call to work.

We must have a 45, 50 or even 60 hour work week and a labor force that is competitive if we are going to recapture the world markets and put sinew back into the arms of Uncle Sam.

While we talk about shorter hours and higher pay, our competitors are working harder. Every time we raise the minimum wage without increasing production we cut our own throats by limiting our capacity to compete in the world markets.

It is not too late. But if the present trend continues, we won't be a second rate nation — we will be a has-been nation.

How would you like to make your living pulling a rickshaw for rich Japanese visiting the Panhandle Plains Museum?

Here at The Canyon News our suppliers have told us we may be facing newsprint shortages in the near future and cutbacks of consumption up to 20 percent.

This will mean briefer stories and possibly fewer pictures until the situation improves. We haven't felt the bite yet although color print has been slower in coming from the mills.

We have also found cover stock for books in shorter supply than it has been. This is a situation we in the industry had not faced since World War II.

John Connally is running for president. I think he is the best thing in sight so far. He has a strong will and a bear trap mind and might be just the man to lead us out of the wilderness.

Hank Grover broke gubernatorial ground for the Republicans last year and although he sowed the seeds there is not much chance that he will do the reaping.

He angered such party stalwarts as John Tower and he is not likely to get much support from them.

From the road it looks like George Bush will be the November opponent for Dolph Briscoe next fall and he will have the concentrated effort of both Tower and Connally.

A Republican governor at home would help Connally immensely, especially if the impression is left that he had a leading role in electing him.

pital. Before the injured youngster was even able to sit up without help, the two boys were eager to play one of their favorite games — hockey.

It was with a good deal of apprehension that the boys' parents looked on when they had their first hockey match. But play they did, with Marty playing the goalee position.

In the next year, the two boys demonstrated a phenomenal amount of imagination in choosing activities and adapting old favorites to Marty's disability, said Mrs. Rathjen.

As Marty began to regain some of the motor skills impaired by the accident, the two boys broadened the scope of their activities.

One of their favorite projects was their pirate ship. Before the accident, the two boys had constructed a ship out of big poles they'd found on the Kuhlman ranch. They left off work on the vessel for a year while Marty was recovering.

When Marty was finally able to play, the two boys again took up their roles as Dirty Derrick and Crooked Ken, the two pirates forced to repair their ship after "the good guys" rammed into it at sea.

Making-believe that an attack from an enemy ship has made necessary a major overhaul of their vessel, the boys continually work at revamping the structure.

The "junk" in the Kuhlman barn is transformed into ship apparatus. Parts of old combines serve variously as machine guns, rudders and steering wheels. Some recently-discovered fencing material has resulted in the building of a ship "jail." And a captain's quarters is now in the works, says Kurt.

Another favorite pastime for the boys is a game in which they become crack sports reporters. Playing for hours on end, the duo turns out pages of sports copy and draw their own illustrations of imaginary hockey action.

Leaving it up to the children's imagination, the Kuhlmans have found that all the necessary adjustments to Marty's disabilities have unfolded naturally.

At a recent birthday party for Marty, Mrs. Kuhlman was surprised to find all of the guests sitting on the floor — playing a sedentary game of baseball.

exemption can be given even including bonded indebtedness.

Board President Tom Keeling said the matter will be brought up again when Cox has completed his recommendation.

The board also eyed a student enrollment summary for the 1973 school year, a summary which indicates student enrollment is still rising in the city's school district.

The 1973 figures indicate a hike in enrollment of 3058 students over the same time in 1972.

Largest enrollment increase is in Rex Reeves School with 972 students compared to 909 in 1972.

Jacobs told the board the kindergarten programs instituted in Rex Reeves School and Gene Howe School account for 144 additional students this year.

Total student enrollment in 1972 was 2891.

Jacobs also noted that while enrollments in second and third grades in the two elementary schools continue to decline, the number of first graders is holding steady and increasing.

"It doesn't fall in the pattern of the past," he said.

Board members also decided to discuss the operation of each school in the system at the first board meeting of each month. First meeting is the first Tuesday night of each month.

The school board is to meet with the Canyon City Commission late next month to discuss operation of the school tax office, which has for several years collected taxes for the city as well as the school district.

The WTSU ensemble is the only Texas university chorale to be selected for performance at the conference, which is expected to draw several thousand music educators from all over the nation this spring.

According to Dr. Sanders, the invitation came as a result of the Chorale's much-acclaimed performance last spring at the Texas Music Educator's Association conference in San Antonio.

In its first performance at a TMEA meet, Sanders said, the Chorale received critical praise from choral directors from throughout the state who had gathered for the conference.

Rumors of the excellence of the West Texas group came to the attention of MENC president Jack Schaeffer, who asked Sanders to submit performance tapes of the ensemble to a national screening committee.

On the basis of the tapes, the WTSU Chorale was selected to perform March 23 at the national conference.

Although the invitation marks the first time the choir has received national recognition, Dr. Sander's small pop-rock ensemble, A New Day, was similarly honored last year when it was one of several university groups in the United States selected to make a tour of the Carribean on behalf of the USO and Department of Defense.

According to Sanders, an invitation for performance at a MENC meet constitutes one of the highest honors to be bestowed on a university choral ensemble.

"It's the dream of every choral director," he said. "Performance before a real musician's audience — an audience that is perhaps the most empathetic with the performers, yet the most critical of their abilities," he said.

Included in the program for the WT Chorale's national debut will be portions of Bach's "Jesu, meine Freude," Benjamin Britten's "Rejoice in the Lamb" and Norman Dello Joio's "Song of the Open Road."

The Chorale will perform its first concert of the season Oct. 21 in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

year bonds and I don't think on the other (the Hill-Burton) we could get less than 25 years. You figure the interest on those other five years and I'm ready to go with Bob."

A base construction bid from Reid and Gary Strickland of $1,493,375 was accepted with alternates of $10,300 for carpet and $11,000 for doors.

Davis explained following the Monday night meeting that the local hospital district is unique in the state in being able to issue revenue bonds of any kind.

He said even tax bonds, which have an almost assured return, are difficult to sell in the marketplace for hospitals due to their poor history of profit-making.

Davis said Neblett Hospital has a history of profitable operation, one of only three hospitals in the state with a good profit picture, and this allows Columbian to assure a good interest rate on the revenue bonds.

Before construction can begin on the new hospital, which is to be located between Spur 48 and 4th Avenue in east Canyon, Pioneer Natural Gas Co. must move a large gas line now running underground across the property.

Board members expressed concern that Pioneer might not make a speedy effort to move the line and thereby delay construction until the critical winter months.

In other business Monday, the board approved a budget for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

Expenditures from the general fund total $108,995 while expenditure in the construction fund total $800,197.

Receipts total $111,000 to the general fund and $42,000 to the construction fund.

fall to 1328 this fall.

The numbers of students commuting to West Texas from other communities is also on the rise with 3100 saying they commute this year compared to 2904 who commuted last fall.

Cates said he was not troubled by the decline in enrollment in beginning freshmen, since the decline was just 13 students.

"Two encouraging signs to me are seeing the stop in freshman decline and getting the graduate students back," Cates said. He said that in recent past years, the loss in part-time graduate students has also significantly hurt the university.

Increasing hikes in fees charged part-time students was cited as the reason for declining enrollments last year.

Cates said he can give no logical explanation for the return to campus of the part-time students, who still must pay high fees to attend the university.

Cates said he believes the undergraduate enrollment has reached a point of stability. While he hesitated to say the school's enrollment "has bottomed out," he said he is optimistic that the upward trend will continue next fall.

He said he believes the stability shown in the class enrollment counts is particularly significant when the decline in population for the counties which feed WTSU is taken into account.

The university's principal feeder city, Amarillo, would have shown a decline in school enrollment had kindergarten figures not been taken into account, Cates said.

Off-campus courses offered for the first time on a large-scale basis this fall in several Panhandle cities brought enrollment at the university up by 289 persons.

Head count enrollment for minority students did not increase significantly for the '73 fall term.

But, enrollment in female enrollment took an upward swing.

In 1972, 2716 female students were enrolled as compared to 3043 enrolled this fall. Of those female students, 1957 are single.

Male enrollment is down from 2415 last fall to 2275 this fall.

Math . . .

Increasingly, Huffstutler said, articles in professional math journals are talking of ill-prepared students, unable to cope with the simple application of math to practical problems.

While this general feeling is pervasive in the higher echelons of the mathematics teaching profession, Huffstutler said he's witnessed the same thing at WTSU.

He feels today's math student is no better prepared once he reaches college than was the math student of 10 years ago.

"That's a generality," Huffstutler stresses. "In some instances, some students are much better prepared than they were 10 years ago."

Nevertheless, there is no way to measure whether or not students who might have been lost in mathematics 10 years ago and now finding a little they can cope with in the new math today.

New math was proposed as a cure-all, proposed to get the job done in increasing the capacity of American youth in math-oriented activities — engineering, aerospace, rocketry, etc. — back when the general fear was widespread in the country that the Russians were pulling ahead in the scientific fields.

Perhaps, Huffstutler said, the new math was pushed too hard and too fast without enough consideration given to its practical application.

Today's student, he says as he thumbs through an article which espouses the same idea, has a difficult time making the bridge from the theoretical to the practical.

New math is based in the theoretical, with its premise that students should discover the truths of math for themselves, that they should understand the theory behind math rather than worry about memorization of formulas and tables.

Huffstutler said the problem has come because many teachers at all levels are to dependent on math textbooks which assume that the theory of math is the essence of its study. While Huffstutler says this assumption may be valid when the product aimed for is a theoretical mathematician, the practical problem lies in the fact that the majority of students who take math courses are not going to be theoretical mathematicians.

Even the bulk of students who intend to pursue a career related to mathematics will not be involved in the theory so much as they will be involved in the application of mathematic principles and various formulas and tables.

Current methods of teaching new math have not worked, Huffstutler states flatly. Teachers have lost sight of the goal of their courses, and have based their teaching on a false premise — that all students are motivated to learn math by the exploratory or theoretical method.

"Most people are just not motivated that way," he said.

Thus, most persons who have not had new math learned the multiplication tables by rote memory. Most never questioned why 2x2 equals 4. They assumed it a truth and went on from there.

To get bogged down in why 2x2 equals 4 in lower grades is to lose sight of the purpose of math education for the majority of the people.

Huffstutler said the trend in the math world today is to teach teachers how to teach new math. The stress is on supplementing existing texts with practical materials, and informing teachers about their role in the whole scheme of math instruction.

the cost and the city to pay 25 per cent.

City Manager George Loudder said the state's Criminal Justice Council might pay as much as 10 per cent of the cost thus lowering city participation to 15 per cent.

In a presentation at their last meeting, Police Chief Al Stewart said much of the material is to replace items now on hand but impotent due to disuse. He described the purchase of the items as one way for the city to have money it pays through various court cases to the CJC.

Commissioners also passed a resolution allowing local policemen to aid law enforcement officers in other cities or counties when asked in case of specific emergency.

An anticipated discussion of a proposed contract between city and Randall County concerning extension of services was not discussed, primarily because it had not been discussed earlier in the day by county commissioners.

Mayor J. Manly Bryan moved over that item hurriedly when told the county had not discussed the contract proposed by Loudder.

Tabled for the third consecutive meeting was discussion on a request by Pioneer Natural Gas Co. for a change in charging what has been an annual cost adjustment. Pioneer has asked that the cost adjustment, based on what the company must pay for gas in the field, be realigned each monthly billing rather than annually.

A memorandum given commissioners through Loudder asks the commission to wait before acting until representatives of several cities now working on the proposal can make a complete report.

The memo is from Fred W. Poe, chairman of a committee appointed recently to meet with Pioneer officials and discuss the proposed rate adjustment. Poe is former chairman of the West Texas Utilities Committee, a group formed three years ago to examine a Pioneer proposal for gas rate increases.

Poe said in the memo he and several other representatives of various cities met with Pioneer officials recently and learned that while the company has asked that the change go into effect on Oct. 1, the change could easily come after that date.

He indicated he will at a later time have a specific recommendation for the commission.

In other business, commissioners awarded a contract to Clowe and Cowan of Amarillo for 3000 feet of fire hose. The Amarillo firm bid $3225 for the hose and was low bidder. Other bids ranged in price from $3460 to $4350.

Stevenson Motor Co. of Canyon was awarded contract to provide a flat-bed truck for the city street department. The company bid $5281. Other bidder was Imperial Chevrolet with $5787.

Commissioners voted to continue to provide regulations for control of outdoor advertising inside the city limits. The Texas Highway Department had asked whether the city would like the department to assume responsibility for regulating outdoor advertising inside the city.

Loudder recommended the city maintain control over the advertising, primarily for convenience of those who might place advertising in the city.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnie B. Sikes, Sr., of Canyon.

Judy is a graduate of Broken Bow High School, Broken Bow, Neb. and received a B.S. degree from Kearney State College, Kearney, Neb., in home economics education. She received her Masters degree from West Texas State University, with emphasis on guidance and counseling in May 1973.

This program is still functioning with some revisions. During her teaching tenure, she was selected as Teacher of the Day twice.

The community contributions include assisting with foods projects for the Wayside 4-H Club, Homeliving Judge at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo, and she is a past Sunday School and Church School teacher.

Presently, Judy is staying home with her sons and doing commercial cake decorating in her spare time.

Buses Eyed For Trip To Denton Game

Plans for a migration of West Texas State University students and fans to Denton for Saturday night's football game with North Texas State are under way.

"We want to get one or two chartered buses," said Edward Hart, Lubbock junior. "The cost will depend on how many persons go."

Hart said the maximum cost would be $14.50 per person if a 33-passenger bus is chartered. "The cost will be less if more go," he added.

"We will leave early Saturday morning and come back after the game," Hart said. "There will be refreshments on the bus."

Hart said the cost is only for the bus. Game tickets and food will be additional.

He said students and public can sign up through Frank Castleberry, director of the Activities Center on campus. A $10 deposit is required, Hart added.

Local Named Lodge Chief In Scouting

Dan McGlasson was installed Saturday night as lodge chief of Palo Duro Lodge of Order of the Arrow during a banquet which attracted between 200 and 300 persons to Canyon.

McGlasson is junior assistant Scoutmaster for Troop 31 of Canyon.

The Palo Duro Lodge encompasses the western half of the Texas Panhandle.

Theme of Saturday night's banquet was "A Time to Remember," and the lodge celebrated its 20th anniversary with presentations concerning the lodge's history.

WTSU Netters Open Season In Colorado

West Texas State University, winner of the Missouri Valley Conference tennis championship last spring, opens its fall season Friday and Saturday in the Rocky Mountain Invitational at Boulder, Colo.

The Buffaloes of coach David Kent will compete against the University of Kansas, Air Force Academy and host University of Colorado.

Kent's Buffaloes will open with veterans holding down the first three positions. Talented freshmen are in the other three positions.

Each of the matches in Colorado will be six-man affairs, with six singles matches and three doubles.

The Buffaloes face Colorado in what could be the championship match at 9 a.m. Friday and at 1 p.m. that same day they play Air Force Academy. The Buffs meet Kansas at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Bill Marsh of Arkansas City, Kan., who played in the number one singles position most of the 1972 season, returns and will again play in that spot.

John Phillips, Snyder senior, who has played in the number three position most of his career as a Buffalo, moves to the number two singles berth. Dale Corbin of Wichita Falls moves up from number four in singles to number three.

Reno, Nev., freshman Steve Johnson is the number four man for the Buffs in singles. San Angelo's Jay Goss is number five and freshmen Britt Hall of Houston and Dana Caledonia of La Jolla, Calif., will share the number five spot.

Joseph D. Blades

Grant Given WT Student

Joseph D. Blades of Campbell, Mo., has been awarded the first $200 Charles E. Strain Memorial Grant at West Texas State University.

The grant established earlier this year by Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Burke Jr., of Hobbs, N.M., in memory of Strain, a longtime orchestra director at West Texas State. Burke, 70, retired president of the College of the Southwest at Hobbs, was one of Strain's students.

Mr. and Mrs. Burke established 100-year trust funds at WTSU, Ohio State University and Texas Tech University for music students.

Blades, a music education major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blades of 1103 S. Oak, Campbell. He said he wants to become a band director and selected West Texas State because of its music education programs.

Frosh Footballers Open Play

West Texas State University's Freshman football team opens its season at 7:30 p.m. Saturday against Cisco Junior College in Cisco and the hosts have a one-game start on the Baby Buffaloes.

Ranger Junior College edged Cisco, 22-2, last week in Eastland in the season opener for both teams.

Cisco coach Ace Prescott will have an edge in experience at the all-important quarterback position. Wayne Andress of Houston is in his second year as quarterback for the Cisco Club.

West Texas Freshman coach Ronnie Mankin will go with Bryan Carr at the quarterback berth. The 5-9, 160-pounder is the younger brother of Buffalo safety Daryl Carr. He was recruited by West Texas as a defensive back and will also start in the secondary as a corner back.

Starting with Carr in the backfield will be halfbacks Don Jackson of Houston and Larry Johnson of Childress. Either Tucumcari's Jeff Nunn or Danny Harris of Hereford will open at fullback.

Mankin will start Amarillo's Keith Oxley at tight end and Willard Jones of Lawton, Okla., at split end. The tackles will be Cliff Laws of Tahoka and Greg Vaughn of Marlow, Okla. Hereford's Winston Short and Greg Whitstone of Lawton, Okla., will open at guards and Gary Trosper of Dumas will be at center.

On defense, Mankin will start Nunn and Canyon's Chip Van Pelt at ends, Bill Bates of Lefors and Roy Markham of Canyon at tackles and Jim Bob Brown of Stratford at nose guard. The linebackers will be Short and Darrell Blades of Hooker, Okla. Carr, Johnson, Harris and Fort Worth's Clifford Mann will be in the secondary for the Baby Buffaloes.

Abundance Week Set Nov. 11-17

Canyon businessmen and farmers' wives will be involved for the first time in this year's Food and Fiber Abundance Week for Randall County.

The week is set for Nov. 11-17 and is to be capped off with a three or four day exhibit of food and fibers grown in Randall County fields.

A steering committee meeting held Friday morning resulted in setting of dates for the week and initial planning for the exhibits.

The committee decided to involve local businessmen who have a direct relation with foods and fibers in the exhibits and to also involve farmers wives in recognition of their contribution to food and fiber abundance.

"I was highly pleased with last year's," County Agent John Brazzil said. "We'll be challenged to have a better one, but I think we can."

Last year, agriculture groups, including wheat growers, sorghum growers, cattle raisers, pork raisers and dairy producers, staged a three-day exhibit in Gene Howe School and at Rex Reeves School for school children and the general public.

No specific number of days for the exhibits was set at the Friday meeting in County Judge Woody Pond's office. But, committee members noted that Canyon Junior High School would like to be included this year.

General committees formed Friday include a committee of local grocers, one of beef producers, pork producers, farmers' wives, and organizations to be asked to participate include the Randall County Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, Canyon Garden Club, Women's Chamber of Commerce and Dairy Association.

A meeting for all these groups to get together and discuss the week's activities is scheduled for Sept. 27.

Steering committee includes Raymond Raillard, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Roland Black, chamber manager, Brazzil, Mrs. Becky Hall, county home demonstration agent, Shug Bonds and Carroll Wilson of The Canyon News, Cristler Crain and Mrs. Chris Thomas.

Pom Poms For Sale

The Canyon High School Booster Club will be selling purple and white pom poms at the gate for the game Friday night.

Cost will be $1, and all Eagle fans are urged to buy a pom pom and support the team.

The Fair Is Here

By TOOTIE BYBEE

WELL, AND THE Tri-State Fair is in full swing once again. Guess that means all the kiddoes around the house are all ready to have their annual good time. Myself, I'm of the "older" generation and enjoy the exhibits and all the beautiful animals that are on display. Particularly the beauty of the horses. Nothing more lovely than a fat sleek, well muscled Quarter Horse. Also, Fair time means about the end of the garden time and that makes me very happy but worn out. And even watched two flocks of geese flying overhead the other evening and this told me it won't be long 'til cold days and slick roads. But I do love the Fair. Speaking of the Fair: Tracy and DeAnn Cooper's Chuck has a booth out there this year selling soft drinks, and a new fangled type potato chip called "Puffs", I believe, and they invite any and everybody. So, if you're looking for them this week that's where they'll be. . .or at one of the Canyon Junior High Football Games watching son Ricky knock 'em dead on the field.

DENISE MALSON RECENTLY gave a surprise party for Shirley Tomes. Her mom Betty gave me all the info. It was Shirley's 15th birthday. They all went skating and according to Betty ate a lot. Those present were: Vicky Miller, Dian Green, Denise Malson and Shirley Tomes.

THE THURSDAY LADIES Club met at the new home of the I.J. Tow's for a day to catch up on all the news of the summer and plans of the coming winter. We also ate a lot! Those who were not there were very much missed and it is time to get back into the swing of things so come on along.

HOPE THIS FINDS Miss Marcie Minor much much better.

OH, YES THE Camp Fire Girls will have a booth at the Fair this year! We will be showing a few slides of our activities for those who have the time to watch and also handing out literature about the organization, so come on by and see us. I'll be there all day Thursday and hope you'll drop by and let me tell you about one of my greatest loves: Camp Fire Girls.

IF YOU HAVEN'T bought your Band Calendar yet Russell Ross and Shirley Tomes are both selling them and would love to have your order, and you sure don't have to have kiddoes in school to order.

ALSO, CINDY BUCKLES and Debbie Moreland are selling toothbrushes for the Choirs of the Senior High and if you would like to buy some give them a call.

SOME OF YOU were wondering about all the machinery and work going on in the field directly behind the Fowlkes and down that way. Well, according to my information that is a new housing development being developed by Horace Dwight. It will be new homes built along the same lines as those here in Mescalero Park. Haven't the slightest idea how many or how large the plots are, etc. But hope to have this for you by next issue cause so many of you have asked me to find out about it. You know by this time next year we may need 3 school buses out here!!

IF YOU WERE one of the lucky ones to get a bushel or so of the Woods peaches you were very lucky. They were so very good and I know half the Park has been canning peaches. One of the events of this past summer that I forgot to include last week was Stanley Cook's wedding. On July 14 sweet Stanley married his lovely Diane Brown. They are living on the Cooks farm at Perryton and Diane is going to school while Stanley is farming. They were down this weekend and visited with Ray and Ester: We sure love that ole Stanley boy. And a special note to Ray: Please take good care of yourself cause we love you too. Ray has really had a battle with it all this summer, so take care. Also want to say: To Corky and Johnnie Johnson just cause you moved across the highway is no sign not to call every once in awhile and let me hear from you. Want to know how Marty is doing with her horses, etc. Also noticed you are building on to your new mobile home!

THE EVAN'S HAD a house full of company this weekend. LeRoy's brother and wife and children were visiting with them and they moved Floy and Mary and baby back with them as Floy has a new job there.

WELL IF YOU have some news I don't have it so call me. As I. J. said be careful what you say around me cause I'm back in business.

OH YES, THE pretty orange pumpkin better known as a Datsun Pickup you see running around with a bright apple green motorcycle in the back isn't the "Great Pumpkin" of Charlie Brown fame. It is only Mike Tow doing his thing!

STEVE ROSS, WHO was getting in the car with you the other evening in front of your house? I know it wasn't a fellow "Goat Roper."

Businessmen To Welcome Teachers Sat.

The annual businessman-new faculty dinner will be Saturday night in the West Texas State University dining hall.

The event is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce to give new teachers in the Canyon Public Schools and West Texas State a chance to meet local businessmen.

More than 200 persons are expected for the dinner, which will feature no formal speech.

The teachers will be welcomed by Chamber President Raymond Raillard. Remarks will be made by Dr. Lloyd Watkins, WTSU president, and Jerry Jacobs, superintendent of local schools.

About 50 new teachers are in the public schools and the university this year.

Film Cancelled

"Fritz the Cat," originally slated for screening Friday at West Texas State University, has been cancelled, said Jim Holston, program director for the activities center.

The animated cartoon, which depicts the popular comic strip cat in a series of sexual, racy adventures, was a scheduled offering on the SAC film series.

Holston said he decided to cancel the screening as a result of scheduling problems with the film distributors, as well as complaints he has received about showing the controversial cartoon.

Holston said he is trying to acquire another film, "My Fair Lady," in place of the film.

Palisades Palaver

Picnic Was A Success

By MILDRED TURNER

GREETINGS!

WE ARE GETTING some new neighbors soon. The Rev. and Mrs. Gerald Sewright have bought the Oglesby house. He is the pastor of the Palisades Church. We are very happy to have them as neighbors.

WE WERE OVER to Lena and Lum's last week and they sure have a lot of antiques with which they are parting. If you want something different go over and see them.

CLAY LINDSEY AND Gene Webb have just returned from a combined business and pleasure trip; visiting Tim Lindsey in Alabama, Lloyd Lindsey in Tennessee and Mae Dodson in Arkansas.

WAS TALKING TO Frank Wilson at church the other evening and he said Maudie Ola Bartlett was in from California. Sure would like to see her and I'm sure all of you would.

GRACE AND ORVILLE Ladahoff, Carolyn and Dan Bailey went up to Red River and Cimarron recently camping, sightseeing, having fun. Dana (5 months) stayed with Nan. One day we took her formula, my sandwich, went over to her house, and had a picnic (while watering C and D's garden). We took her to Furr's to eat on Sunday after church, and to see her great-granny Turner later. In general, we just had a lot of fun showing her off. She hardly had time to miss her family.

THE VAUGHN'S NEW grandson is called Nathan Loren. The parents are Jimmy and Rhonda Vaughn. Pearl and I walked across the creek to see the Pennys' new addition. It is a new bedroom for Stacy, a den, and screened-in porch. It was very fascinating to watch him as he cut the stones for the fireplace. I know they will really enjoy this lovely addition.

CLEAVE AND ELIZABETH Rainwater from Canyon drove out Saturday evening, also, daughter Belva and J.T. (Winters) came out. We had planned to go to the picnic but had a repair man out with our stove. With oven, deep fryer, electric skillet and repair man all going at once, it looked like we were still going to be about fifteen minutes late so Janet and Sheree went on to the picnic. We had our picnic here. We were just finishing eating when the rain hit as we made a mad dash up the hill. Cleve said, "If you want your creek up to bank level, just plan a picnic every night."

JANET AND SHEREE came back declaring the Palisades picnic a great success, lots of food and people, that everyone was asking about us (so sorry we missed), and the business meeting was continued at the church. The following officers were elected for the Palisades Club: Phil Boothe, president; Paul Fleming, vice-president; Jack Inman, treasurer; Dora Waldrop, secretary; and board members, O.O. Guess, Jerri Thompson and James Scott. Will get as many details as possible from Dora this week. I am confident these officials will do great this year. Also, glad we still have a lady on the board (besides the secretary), then with two ladies you can get just the right touch.

SOMEONE HAS BEEN working on the gate and we're very, very appreciative. I think I know who but please let me know for sure. I still think it would be nice to keep the gate locked after five and on weekends even if some of the early birds have to prepare for the school bus.

THE FAIR SEEMED to start with a bang, despite the cold weather, the fair spirit did not seem dampened. We watched the parade from the fireside (on TV). Grace and Orville Ladahoff drove in that last part of the parade in an old 1927 model Chevrolet with the child evangelism theme.

GARLAND CAME HOME from the hospital Friday. We had been telling him we had a surprise the whole family was enjoying. He began to guess so I went to the door and whistled. Nothing happened, so he came out to look and saw our tricycle, as we call our three wheeler. We are enjoying it for exercise and running errands, although almost get stuck in the sand sometimes. It has three gears. Sheree has got more miles so far. I usually ride down Casino Drive so if I topple I can get up before I get run over.

WITH OUR FIRST Home Demonstration Club meeting of the season coming up I am reminded again of some of you who asked for the poem I wrote for the district meet at Booker when I was THDA. Since I never got a lot of your addresses, etc, I think I'll just send it to you this week by way of your paper.

TO BECKY HALL and Mrs. Charles Warmineski, and all of your women in District I:

DISTRICT ONE

Some of the finest women under the sun
Live at the top of Texas in District One!
Busy as beavers at work or at fun
They never stop until the job is done.

They help senior citizens whenever they can
To many a 4-H'er they lend a helping hand
They must quiet them, help them you see;
These men and women of tomorrow will be.

Some ladies write poetry or a song gay,
While others make pottery out of clay;
Whether knitting or quilting they have a ball,
Some even paint pictures to hang on the wall.

Our director is the hub of the wheel
With help reaching to every club in her field;
Her warmth and enthusiasm spreads to every club
A blue ribbon for the lady who is the hub.

Our agent, the greatest, brings programs galore;
From coloring of wall, to covering of floor.
Of family living, recreation, safety and health,
Even how to spend money from the grocery shelf.

Our homes are our castles and this we find true;
If your concern is for me, and my concern is for you;
If we share in our fun and share in our fate,
District One will remain at the top of the state.

SEE YOU NEXT week. Call Mildred, 622-0701.

2nd Annual Community Garage Sale Saturday

By REBA RAEF

THE UMBARGER COMMUNITY Association will hold it's second annual garage sale this coming Saturday, Sept. 22, in the school gym. If you have articles to donate for the sale, and need to have them picked up, call 499-3748, 499-2656 or 499-2825. The gym will be open Thursday and Friday evenings, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., to receive your donations. Articles for a consigned sale will also be accepted.

MRS. LAURA HARTMAN has had as her guest for the past few weeks her sister, Pearl Freeman, from Greenville, Tennessee. While she was here, the two sisters, accompanied by Nona Clounch and Mrs. Nora Billingslee, both from Canyon, spent some time at Truth or Consequences, New Mexico, enjoying the hot baths for which the city is noted.

MONSIGNOR M. F. Schafle, our vacationing pastor, has returned home. He left in early August and visited in quite a few places. From Amarillo, he went to Oklahoma City, to visit friends. From there, he went to El Paso, to visit with friends. He had planned to spend some time in the Big Bend National Park but couldn't get reservations for quite a while, so on to Corpus Christi for four days. From there he went along the coast to Biloxi, Miss. He said the entire trip up the coast was hot, humid and rainy. He visited St. Augustine Seminary at Bay St. Louis in Mississippi, then went on to Chattanooga, Tenn. where he enjoyed much better weather. He also visited Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge, where the decisive battle of the Civil War was fought. In Oklahoma again, he visited Platt National Park, our smallest national park. From there, he went to San Jose, Calif., to visit with his brother Frank and his family over Labor Day weekend. Enroute home, he visited Havasu City, to see the transplanted London Bridge. He also visited the New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque, then on home. Father said he had to be real watchful of his gasoline but managed to fill his gas tank when the tank was still half full.

MR. AND MRS. Ed Wieck and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gerber are grandparents again. Jim and Carolyn Wieck, from Hartley, have a little daughter, Sherri Lyn. She arrived Sept. 11 and joins one sister and two brothers. Mrs. Gerber is spending a few days in the Jim Wieck home. Our congratulations to the parents and grandparents.

UMBARGER IS BEGINNING to "think Festival," as preparations for the annual German Sausage dinner get undersay. The chairman for this year is R.D. Friemel and John Beckman is the co-chairman. Head cooks are Mesdames Vincent Friemel, Sylvester Batenhorst, Ronald Haschke and Joe Grotegut. Mrs. Elroy Artho is the sauerkraut chairman and Mrs. Carl Hartman is co-chairman. The sauerkraut will be made Sept. 26. Anyone wishing to donate pork or beef for the sausage may call R.D. Friemel at 499-2518 or John Beckman at 499-2875. There will be a raffle and bazaar and work is already being done on bazaar items. A "Country Store" will be one of the features again this year. The Festival will be held Nov. 11 so keep that Sunday open and come eat with us.

NEWCOMERS TO UMBARGER are Don and Kathy Howard and daughter Elaine, who moved from Tucumcari, N.M. Don is not really a newcomer, as he has lived north of Umbarger for many years.

IF YOU HAVE news for me, please call me at 499-2164.

"This is the third year the scholarship has been given," said Dr. Jack Walker, head of the WTSU speech and theatre department and chairman of the scholarship selection committee.

John Banasik, president of the advertising club, said a $4,000 fund was established for the scholarship and the proceeds from its investment are used for the award.

Five Canyon Women Win In Culinary Events at Fair

Mrs. George Loudder brought home two 1st place ribbons in Yeast Bread and a 2nd place in Quick Bread from the Tri-State Fair in the Senior Culinary Division.

The two yeast breads are derived from the same recipe, other own invention. One is a white bread and the other is a wheat.

The recipe for these prize winning breads follows:

BREAD LORINE
(Whole Wheat)

½ cup non-fat dried milk
1 cup boiling water
Mix together in large bowl
1/3 cup brown sugar or honey
1/3 cup cooking oil
2 tsp. salt
Add to milk
2 pkg. yeast dissolved in 1¼ cup warm water
When slightly cooled, add to above mixture.
3 cups of whole wheat flour
½ cup bran
¾ cup wheat germ
1 cup soy flour
1 cup gluten flour (the gluten flour gives better texture if soy flour is used)
1½ cup unbleached white flour
Add half of the flour mixture (approximately 3½ cups) to the liquid; beat well for about 2 minutes. Use electric mixer for this. Gradually add remaining flour until it is of kneading consistancy. Turn out onto floured board and knead 10-15 minutes. Let rise until double (preferably twice); make into two loaves. Let rise and bake at 375° for 30-35 minutes.

If you don't want to use the various flours, substitute with white flour. Always refrigerate whole grain flours and remove from refrigerator about an hour before using.

The other bread that took 2nd place was in the Quick Bread division. Mrs. Loudder's recipe for this winner is Soy Biscuits as follows:

SOY BISCUITS

1 cup unbleached flour
½ cup whole wheat flour
½ cup soy flour
3 tsp. baking flour
1 tsp. salt
Sift together
¾ cup soft margarine cut in finely
¾ cup milk
Stir in milk — mix thoroughly. Roll or pat out on floured board. Cut out and place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake at 450° for 10-12 minutes.

Mrs. Loudder is a native of Canyon, a Canyon High School graduate and a graduate of West Texas State with a degree in elementary education. She is a member of the Heritage Women's Club, the Canyon Junior Forum, on the patient advisory board for the Planned Parenthood Clinic, a member of the Kappa Delta Alumnae, and teaches Primary Sunday School at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Loudder's husband, George, is the City Manager of Canyon, and they have three children, Katherine, age 3½, Lori, age 4½, and Jack, 1½.

Other winners in the Senior Culinary Division were Linda Cranmer with 1st places in Yeast Bread with Cinnamon rolls and in Cookies with Donuts; 2nd places in Iced Cakes with white and chocolate layer cakes, Pastry with lemon pastry, and Pies with fruit pies.

Mrs. Barbara McDowell took a 1st in soup mixture and in carrots. Raylene Robinson took a 1st in the vegetable division, and Mrs. Shirley Handley took a 2nd in the same division.

Happy CowBelles At Swisher and Tri-State Fairs

By MARY NEAL HENRY

THE HAPPY COWBELLES met on Wednesday of last week at the Catholic Hall because of the rain. Delores Wilhelm, Othella McGehee and Mildred Gootch were our gracious hostesses. They served coffee, iced tea, finger sandwiches of pimento cheese on dilly bread and orange spice cake with sauce to Vivian Woods, Ruby Vise, Faye Parker, Othella McGehee, Joyce Wheat, Leona McFarland, Willa Elliott, Vera Eubanks, Eron Jennings, Dorris Foster, Mildred Gootch, Nora Taylor, Linda McDonald, Pat Hargrave, Bernice Hamblen, Mary Wilhelm, LaNelle Todd, Myra Nell Culp, Mattie Ruth Robinson, Carolyn Dietz, Willie Butler, Dorothy Davis, Delores Wilhelm, Judy Thompson, Joy Bryan and myself.

VIVIAN WOODS CALLED the meeting to order. Faye Parker presented the program "The Day of the Casserole."

WILLIE BUTLER REPORTED on the fair booths. Happy CowBelles will help the Terra Cotta CowBelles with a booth at the Swisher County Fair and then help move the posters and material to the Amarillo Tri-State Fair on Saturday afternoon. Wednesday will be our day to "man" the booth. Six roasts were donated to be given away — four at the Swisher County Fair on Friday and Saturday and two on Wednesday at the Tri-State Fair. Free literature will be available at both places. Beef buttons and beef stickers will be sold.

THE COWBELLE BOOTH will be located in the "Better Living Center" in space 4C at the Tri-State Fair. Seven area clubs will work in the booth each of the fair days. These include all clubs in the Panhandle with the exception of the Amarillo CowBelles.

STATE CONVENTION OF CowBelles will be held in Abilene on Oct. 17 and 18 at the Hilton Inn. There will be door prizes. Nora Taylor is making the door prize which will be contributed by Happy CowBelles. Nig is also working on the history of the Happy CowBelles and asks for items of interest.

THE NATIONAL COOKBOOKS will be on sale during the latter part of November. These will sell for about $7.95. National has spent $80,000 on these cookbooks and they should prove to be exceptionally attractive. A Texas CowBelle Cookbook is also available for $1.50.

OTHELLA MCGEHEE REPORTED on the State Constitution revision of Texas CowBelles.

JUDY THOMPSON REPORTED on the packet that Wyoming CowBelles handed out at the banquet at the National Finals in Laramie, Wyoming. This packet contained a history of Wyoming Beef (not Wyoming CowBelles — Wyoming Beef).

THE 1974 OFFICERS will be elected at the next meeting which will be in my home on Oct. 10th. The nominating committee: myself, Vivian Woods, Othella McGehee, Willie Butler, and Faye Parker will report at that time.

THAT COMMITTEE MEETING is at my house today. You gals remember.

TERRA COTTA COWBELLES meet today at 12 noon at the Vigo Community Church for a luncheon and meeting. Each is taking a dish and a dollar. I'd go if I didn't have to meet with the nominating committee today.

RUTH SIMS AND Willie Butler traveled to Floydada on Sunday afternoon for a tea in the McNeill home honoring Frances Austin, a grand officer of the Eastern Star. Willie Butler was a hostess for the occasion.

MARY JANE MILLER is in High Plains Baptist Hospital. Remember her.

Maternal grandparents are Jo Ellen and Nathan Harvey and paternal grandparents are Ina Bell and Charles Kennedy.

OUR SYMPATHY TO Mary Sue and Harold Eakes and their Phoebe on the loss of Mary Sue's mother, Mrs. Ray (Phoebe Catherine) Anderson of Panhandle. Mrs. Anderson was a very active woman of 72 years. We knew her because she was a frequent visitor to our Eastern Star Chapter in Happy. She was a most pleasant person.

MRS. ANDERSON DIED rather suddenly in Pampa hospital on Friday afternoon. Her funeral was at the First Baptist Church in Panhandle and burial was in the Panhandle cemetery on Monday. She had been a member of that church, a member and Past Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, a member of the Golden Age Fellowship, and a past president of the Panhandle Home Demonstration Club.

MR. ANDERSON PRECEDED her in death in 1964.

Donald Anderson of Overland Park, Kan., and Bob and Brian, both of Panhandle; two sisters, Mrs. May Bender of Wichita, Kan. and Mrs. Nell Hickey of Littlefield; a brother, Brian of Pueblo, Colo.; seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. TERRY HALE OF the Damascus Christian Center located at 1623 South Lincoln in Amarillo, spoke to the Baptist group on Sunday evening. A group of young people had come with him from the center and a special program was presented to the Young People at 4:30 on Sunday afternoon. Dr. Frank Peters is chairman of this project and they are in a building process at this time. No city, county, state, or federal funds are being used — only donations of Christian individuals. Terry was very interesting.

THE WOMEN'S STUDY Club met Tuesday with Joan Odom. Anna Mae McManigal served as co-hostess. Roll call was answered with, "What's right with America." Their quote for the day was, "Instead of worrying and denigrating our country carping about what's wrong with America, let us seek the beauty that abounds on every hand." The program concerned a choice of leisure time. Royce Vernon introduced Kathy Moudy, who presented a demonstration on the making of macrame.

JAN IRLBECK ENTERTAINED her bridge club in her home last Thursday. Eating lunch and then playing bridge were Sara Tirey, Skip Simons, Jeanne Johnson, Mary Johnson, Alice Middleton, Connie Johnson, Sandy Morgan and hostess, Jan Irlbeck.

THE SUNNYHILL HOME Demonstration Club toured the Briarcroft Subdivision of Amarillo being developed by Imperial Savings. The ribbon cutting the previous Saturday was a gala occasion because they used real money for the ribbon. We were personally shown through by President Fred White and Vice President, Arlin Frampton. We were treated to soft drinks and free gifts. Many interesting features were included in the homes. Helen and Rowdy Bryan, Joy Bryan, Hermion McNeill, Lou Dougherty, Jo Hand, Traverne Vermeire, Kelly Hurst, and Bertie Culp, Judy Thompson, and myself, toured the homes and then ate Chinese food at a nearby restaurant. Traverne Vermeire is also a new member of our club. Mary McCaslin and Barbara Danner joined us for lunch.

THE UNION-SALEM Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday of last week with Delia Langston. Their booth on beef education won first place at the Swisher County Fair in the Educational Division.

NEAL MCCARLEY HAS recently opened an insurance office in Canyon — next door to Buffalo Bookstore — near the college. Neal is representing Republic National Life and attended school for that company in Dallas.

MARCUS VERMEIRE WAS initiated into Rainbow on Monday evening. Special guests for the occasion were her mother, Traverne Vermeire, a majority girl of Canyon Rainbow Assembly; her grandmother, Doris Gilham, and aunt, Ocie Parsons, both members of Canyon Chapter of Eastern Star; her aunt, Jo Hand, a member of Happy Eastern Star; and Ruth Hill, also a member from Canyon's Eastern Star chapter. Fifteen adults were present for the initiation. Refreshments were served by Willa Elliott, Ruth Mann, Cathy Parker, and Lissa Foster.

PHIL BRADLEY SPENT Friday night with me and took me to lunch on Saturday at the new Matador Cafe in Tulia — delicious Mexican food. We dropped by the Swisher County Fair to see how things were going. Lisa and Andy Payne were there. They had won some blue ribbons on sewing and crafts. Nancy, Jeanne and Aaron Parker were there. They, too, had several blue ribbons. Jeanne had all blue ribbons on her canned goods.

DORRIS FOSTER AND Bernice Hamblen were tending the CowBelle's Booth. They had a roast beef cooking away on a rotisserie of Ellen Avent's. It looked delicious. All the exhibits were most interesting.

THANK YOU FOR all the birthday cards. It is so nice to be remembered. . . family; Mrs. Walker (she always writes the year on her card. That way I can tell what year I got which cards); Ruth Mann, I must have as many cards from Ruth as years I've been in this world; Alden Manns; Pauline; and Janie Johnson — way off in Jeffrey City, Wyoming. I was so surprised to hear from her and very pleased. Friends must surely be one's most precious asset.

See ya,
Mary Neal

Third Attraction Named For Canyon Community Concerts

A young mezzo-soprano hailed as an overnight star when she made her national debut in 1972 as Medea, has been announced as the third performer to appear here on the Canyon Community Concerts Association series.

Marvellee Cariaga, newly-signed diva for the San Francisco Opera, was named as the third CCC attraction at a board meeting held at the close of the Association's week-long membership drive which ended Saturday.

According to Dr. John Alpar of Amarillo, membership in the Canyon Community Concerts is up by ten per cent this year.

The performance date for Miss Cariaga has not yet been announced, but her appearance is projected for late fall, Dr. Alpar said.

Miss Cariaga made her operatic debut in Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium in 1965 and has sung leading roles on a number of prestigious West Coast stages since then. She joined the San Diego Opera in 1970, singing opposite Norman Treigle.

This fall, Miss Cariaga has joined the San Francisco Opera and is preparing to sing her first Amneris, on the East Coast, and will sing her fourth and longest cross-country recital tour in Jan. - April, 1974.

Her name first burst upon the national scene in 1972, when the young mezzo-soprano sang the role of Medea as a last-hour replacement for Irene Dalis in the premiere performances of Henderson's new opera in San Diego.

Since 1970, she has been featured in 65 recitals for Columbia Artists Community Concerts and has received critical approval in newspapers throughout the country.

Similar acclaim has met her operatic performances. Opera News cited her "large, freely-produced voice, secure throughout its range." And describing her Medea, the San Diego Union praised "the sensitive musician" with "diction so clear that every word could be understood."

Other featured attractions on this year's series include pianist Thomas Schumacher, to appear here Oct. 30, and the Andre Eglevsky Ballet Ensemble, to appear March 14. Both programs are scheduled in the Canyon High School Auditorium.

Western Scenes By Plainview Artist To Go On Display Oct. 3 At WTSU

The common scenes of the High Plains — windmills, fields, farmhouses and fence posts — are the subject matter for a Plainview artist whose works will be on display Oct. 3-7 at West Texas State University.

Suzanne Teykl, who won local recognition over the past summer for her painting in the Windmill Art Contest at the opening of "TEXAS," will be represented in an exhibit of 26 works in the four-day showing in the Formal Lounge of the WT Fine Arts Building.

Born in Navasota and reared in Baytown, Mrs. Teykl attended the University of Houston and studied art at Lee College in Baytown. She is currently working toward a secondary education degree at Texas Tech University and is teaching in the adult education program in Plainview.

She is the wife of the Rev. Charles Teykl, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Plainview. The couple has three children.

Mrs. Teykl gathers her subject matter for paintings by driving around the caprock area making sketches, notes and occasional photographs. Working primarily in oils and occasionally in tempera and watercolor, the Texas artist says there is "something magnificent about the plains and caprock."

"The Old Home Place," one of the works included in her WT show, won honorable mention in the Windmill contest at the opening of the eighth season of "TEXAS."

Other paintings to be displayed at the show bear such titles as "Dusty Trail," "Just Yesterday," "The Road Home," "The Yearling," "Rough Ground," "Wind Power" and "Winter Skies."

Time To Begin The Christmas Gift and Decoration Planning

By CAROL YOUNG

Now that the kids are back in school and life has settled down a little, it is not too early to start thinking about Christmas.

Sure it is still hot and who wants to start thinking about Christmas in September.

If anyone is planning to make their Christmas gifts or decorations, now is not a bad time to start to insure completion by Christmas. After all, it is only 97 days until the big one. That sounds like a lot of time, but when you get right down to it, handmade gift items do take time to make. An early start will keep you out of that last minute rush so many people find themselves in. Wouldn't it be nice to spend the last week or so before Christmas serenely baking cookies or decorating?

At this time there are a wide selection of kits for gifts and decorations available at your local needlecraft stores. There are also many materials on hand for the do-it-yourselfers and those seeking the originality of their own creation. Many of these kits are for beginners, so anyone can whip up a nice gift on the first try.

Some ideas on Christmas decorations that might get the enthusiasm up include the ever popular Christmas tree skirt. The skirts are usually made of felt or double knit is a possibility. Cut outs trimmed with sequins, gold braid, or just about anything in the shape of Santa Claus, a Christmas tree, reindeer, angels, or choir boys are just a few items used to decorate these skirts. Here is a chance to use your own ideas for a truly original tree skirt.

To delight the children, there are several different kinds of kits and/or materials to make the Christmas stocking. Felt is again a popular item with the sequined cutouts. A knitted stocking reminiscent of bygone days or a needlepoint stocking for a new approach are available in kits. For a fancier touch velvet with cutouts can be used for a stocking that may be handed down through the years.

Tree decorations that can be made come in a variety of shapes, sizes and materials. A new item this year is the miniature stuffed figure trimmed with sequins and beads used for tree ornaments. These can be found in kits to coordinate with almost any scheme used previously or to have something new and different. The ornaments come in fruit shapes and colors, Santa and Mrs. Claus heads and full figures, and for the kids, rag doll type figures. Also, these can be made into animals, angels, practically whatever you might want. For the needle point crowd there is a set of needlepoint ornaments too. Then there is the standard satin covered styrofoam shapes that can be covered with sequins and beads or many other decorative items. The styrofoam balls come plain for the creative group and some people use old jewelry to decorate them.

For those who want to carry their decoration theme farther, there are kits to make doorknob covers, table scarves, tablecloths, and banners for the front door.

For gifts, use your imagination and make something for family and friends. It seems that a handmade gift has more meaning than a store bought one, because the individual took the time and trouble to make it herself. How many grandparents are there that would trade a roughly made eyeglass case made by a grandchild for the best one on the market?

For those small gifts that one never quite knows what to get, mini-pincushions that can either be needlepoint or crewel embroidered are popular and inexpensive. Almost everyone needs a pincushion for sewing or just for safety pins. Many of these kits are for beginners and children.

Another small item that can be a nice gift is needlepoint or crewel coasters. These kits come with everything needed to make the finished item, and are easy to boot. If someone was interested in learning how to needlepoint or crewel, this might be an easy and profitable way to do it.

There are mini-animals, too, that come in needlepoint, gros or quick point, and crewel that would make excellent selections for the nieces, nephews and cousins. Children can also make these for their friends.

For the sports minded there are needlepoint golf club covers and a putter cover for the golfer who has plenty of tees, balls, and hats. For the tennis enthusiast there are several kits for needlepoint or quick point racket covers. Some are complete with zipper and ready to finish. Patterns for these are available in stars and stripes and flowers or it's possible to design one.

For the lady on the list that needs something special there are needlepoint purses available that are assembled and ready to finish, or that come with all the materials needed to finish them. For a more traditional bag, a needlepoint piece can be sent off and assembled into a popular style handbag.

Children are able to catch on to latch hooking and rugs and pillows can be made from this craft. The rug and pillow canvas can be purchased with a stamped design or blank.

Other small needlepoint and crewel gift items are hanger covers for padded hangers, eyeglass cases, and small pictures that include the frames.

Pillows are popular and can be made in the latch hook, needlepoint, quick point, crewel or crocheted. Many of the needlepoint pieces come with the design already worked and the background is the only thing needing finishing. A new item this year is a needlepoint piece that can be a pillow or picture with the center being a buffalo for West Texas or any one of the Southwest Conference team mascots. The pillows can also be found with owls, lions, or turtles, a perfect gift for a sorority girl.

For those that knit, foot warmers, or slippers that can be crocheted or knitted and sweaters are always popular. The new look in the sweater vest is available in patterns.

Afghans are popular and can be knitted, crocheted or crewel embroidered. A wide selection of colors and kinds of yarn are available. A new type of afghan needlework is the broomstick method. Most kits come with instructions and instruction classes are usually in session at local suppliers.

These ideas should start people thinking about all those things that have to be done for Christmas. With a little effort and time spent, gifts can be a pleasure and decorations can take on a new look for this year. Some of the beginner kits will keep the kids occupied when the weather gets bad and they can't be outside.

Artist Wins Fair 1st Place

By TROYCE MULHERIN

FAIR GREETINGS: SHOULDA KNOWN, SHOULDA known. The Tri-State Fair and cool, cloudy weather have apparently joined forces. Come fair time, we start digging the coats and sweaters out.

SPEAKING OF THE fair — go see the art exhibit. The talented Devery Dampf is displaying a much-coveted first place ribbon on her watercolor. Same was entered in the landscape division and depicts a cowboy riding his horse off into the sunset during a rainstorm. Devery also garnered a third place ribbon on her acrylic painting, which depicts two antelope running across the plains during a snow storm. Devery was entered in the student division. She is a sophomore at West Texas State and is majoring in art.

DEVERY IS THE daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bev Dampf. Devery's mom, Beverley also has an acrylic or two on exhibit. So, look for both of these artist's works. And, congratulations to Devery!

THE NORTHWEST TEXAS Hospital Auxiliary held its annual awards luncheon recently at the Psychiatric Pavilion. Table decorations centered around the theme of "Smile, It's Contagious!," and smile faces were incorporated into the flower arrangements on each table. Attendees were also greeted with nut cups on which smile face pins were attached. Raydell Palmer, auxiliary president, presented awards to several Gene Howe volunteer workers. Raydell received a thousand-hour bar, and presented 150-hour pins to Darlene Campbell and to Glenna Schmidt. Jackie Jobe also attended the luncheon.

MARGARET INGRAM, PTA membership chairman, reports that as of last Friday 465 had joined the association. It will never be too late to become a part of Gene Howe's PTA, but the membership contest will close Oct. 8. Be sure and join, if you haven't already done so — this is an interested and active unit — one that needs and wants you and your support!

WHILE WE ARE PTA-ing — several rooms at Gene Howe are still awaiting their reading area carpets. So, if you have (or can scarf off) some carpet remnants or pieces, please share. Take to the school, or call 355-0028 or 352-6053, and your much-appreciated donations will be picked up at your convenience.

ARTS UNLIMITED HELD its first workshop of the season at Arts and Crafts by Betty recently. Those in attendance had a great deal of fun making cornhusk dolls, quite charming little creations, too! Sandy Wait became a welcome member — glad to have you, Sandy!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY WISHES Jane Aduddell who became eight big years old on the 10th. Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Aduddell and celebrated with a family-type cake and ice cream eating party.

MANY HAPPIES TO Greg Cates, who celebrated his sixth birthday with fourteen friends coming to the Cates' home for games and eats. Greg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cates.

ALICIA NIEMEIER, FIRST grade teacher at Gene Howe, became a year prettier on the 16th. Many more happy birthdays to this lady.

GENE HOWE'S LOVELY P.E. Assistant is retiring from the teaching world. Connie Fiola and hubby Joe are expecting their first born in February! This will be Connie's last week at the school, and she will be sorely missed. As the Chief says, Connie has contributed a real service to the school and the community. The Fiolas have been anxiously busy furnishing the baby's room. Understand that Joe is becoming quite adept with the ol' paintbrush. We regret losing Connie to motherhood, but appreciate her happiness over the coming event!

GLANDEEN SHENK WILL make her appearance in the P.E. department come Monday morning. Glandeen has taught first grade, fourth grade, remedial reading and high school English in the Colorado schools. She relates that P.E. is her first love, though; and, she is pleased to be associated with Gene Howe.

HUBBY JOHN HAS a "vested" interest in the Red Wing Shoe Store and is operations manager with Attebury Elevators. The Shenks have two lovely daughters. Susan is an eighth grade student at Canyon Junior High; and Shelley is a fifth grader at Gene Howe. Glandeen enjoys bridge, golfing and tennis. She also serves as secretary for the Xi Eta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. A great big welcome to Glandeen in her duties as P.E. Assistant!

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY WISHES to Glenna and Leonard Schmidt, who observed fifteen years of wedded bliss on the 13th of this month.

THE VINCENT RAMAEKERS observed their 21st anniversary on the 16th. Rosemary is one of the fourth grade teachers at Gene Howe. Congrats to you both!

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. and Mrs. Harold Lovelady, who celebrated their 22nd anniversary on the 16th!

RESULTS OF THE Cub Scout Rally held at the school last week: Bill Edwards, Master of Troop 130, notes that thirteen new Cubs registered at the ice cream party. There are about eighteen Webelos in this troop, and some male-type assistance is desperately needed with regard to the Webelos. The ideal number for a Webelo den is around eight, so — one of the dads volunteer some help, O.K.?

MR. EDWARDS IS aware of the fact that there are many more young men eligible for Cubs — those being boys 8, 9 or 10 years of age and not in Pack 130 previously. So, if any prospective Cub was not able to attend this rally, a call to Mr. Edwards at 352-3136 will do the job.

LAST WEEK FOUND Linda Thomas very involved with some Scout doings. She served as chairwoman of Troop 80's family night dinner! Approximately 323 Scout-oriented people attended the affair and visited and ate and ate and ate. Hubby Bert and son Kelley had spent the previous weekend camping out and participating in Scout activities. It was a rather rainy and damp weekend but they had considerable fun anyway. Corey Ford and his dad Tom joined in on this weekend, canoeing, riflery-ing and archery-ing.

KELLEY THOMAS IS presently serving as a patrol leader and working toward his Eagle rating. (Kelley had 44 people from his patrol in attendance at the dinner, including boys and their parents.) Corey Ford is working on his Star rating in Troop 80.

FOOTBALL AND SOCCER news: Notice the "soccer"? This is Gene Howe's first year to have a soccer team! Don Myers is the enterprising coach of this first grade team. It's a "whole new ballgame" for many of the boys, and they are getting a real charge out of this new endeavor. So is Don. We will be following their games with enthusiasm.

RAY MYERS IS the coach for the fourth grade football team at Gene Howe. This team will have its opening day game at Gene Howe this Sunday at two o'clock.

WES BROMLEY, JIM Riley and Ken Wallace are sharing coaching chores for the fifth grade football team at Gene Howe. Bob Trook, assisted by brother Dennis, is coaching the mixed fifth and sixth grade team. This team has played Bivins school so far this season. Score was 0-0.

BOB PARIS AND Euris Phipps are coaching the sixth grade team, which recently played against Oakdale. Terry Miller and Cory Myers contributed touchdowns to the 13-12 win, with Gene Aduddell carrying the all-important extra point.

JOE AND MARY Whipple and youngsters have been busy, busy, busy lately. They have bought themselves a new home, located just beyond McCormick Road, in the vicinity of the VFW Road. The home is situated on three acres and plans to acquire a horse, a calf, and some chickens are in the making. Mary is anticipating a really big garden come planting time.

THE WHIPPLES HAVE been painting and wall papering and laying new carpeting. Though they haven't accomplished all of their decorating plans, they went ahead and moved into their new home this past week. Just couldn't wait any longer. Son Dan is already in the process of constructing a track for some motorcycle riding. We wish a warm and happy new home to the Whipples!

SHE'S NOT REALLY "new" to Gene Howe — but, she holds a "new" position at Gene Howe. Speaking we are of Dot Ford. The status she is pleased and proud to have is that of Elementary Counselor! Dot served as Educational Diagnostician for the Canyon schools for the last three years. The year before that she worked in the MBI unit at Rex Reeves.

DOT IS AT Gene Howe on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for the purpose of counseling with parents and students. She takes referrals from teachers and parents alike, helping with learning or school problems. Dot says she has found the parents "beautiful to work with," displaying an understanding and agreeable interest in their children's welfare. She also speaks highly of the teachers at Gene Howe, stressing their dedication to the young ones.

DOT'S HUBBY JIM is with AT&T, and she has three handsome boys. Dick is eighteen and going into the Navy next week. Bill is sixteen and attends Tascosa High School in Amarillo. Pat is the youngest, being nine and a student at Avondale school in Amarillo. The Fords are members of the Olsen Park Baptist Church, and have been for years and years and years.

DOT SAYS SHE leads three lives — her family, her school and her church! She is a delightful person, and invites your calls and visits at the school. So nice to have our very own counselor — nicer yet for such position to be filled by the person of Dot Ford! Welcome aboard, Dot Ford.

THE DEADLINE FOR getting your birthdays and anniversaries down on the band calendar is this Friday. So grab yourself a member of one of the bands and give him or her the necessary info pronto! The calendars will be out the first of December. Very handy to have around the house. The calendar, that is, not the band member.

AFTER REPEATED WEEKENDS spent fishing in Red River, the men in the Mulherin family finally found their dreams coming true. Guy finally snagged himself two biggies — one measuring 21 inches and the other trout being a 19 incher. Mart brought five "good ones" home for his supper. All accomplished weekend before last. Last weekend's trip to Colorado was unproductive as far as the fishing was concerned.

SURE PLEASANT TO have Mildred Turner and Tootie Bybee back in the fold, pounding the ol' typewriters again. Their news is interesting and informative, and was sorely missed these past few months. Welcome home you two!

CLUBS — WHY NOT appoint a reporter and have such reporter call with club news and doings. O.K.? Pretty Please.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall.

Michael Paul Matesky

WTSU Cellist In Sun. Recital

Michael Paul Matesky, West Texas State University orchestra conductor and outstanding cellist, will be featured in recital at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Matesky's performance is the first in the fall series of faculty recitals in the Branding Iron Theatre of the Fine Arts Building on the Canyon campus. He will be accompanied on piano by his wife, Nancy Matesky, also a member of the WTSU music faculty.

Vivaldi's "Sonata in B flat," "Two Moods for Tuba" and Beethoven's "Sonata in g minor" are programmed for the recital.

"Vivaldi's sonata is a work of one of the greatest broque masters, and Beethoven's work bridges the classical to the romantic in the program," Matesky said.

"However, the piece for tuba was dedicated by Swann, the composer, to Gerald Huffnung whose 'Huffnung Festivals' in London have acclaimed great notoriety for premiering weird and often senseless composition," he added.

The recital, as well as a reception for the cellist following the program in the formal lounge, is open to the public.

In addition to conducting the WTSU symphony orchestra, Matesky is assistant conductor and principal cellist of the Amarillo Symphony.

A native of Los Angeles, he completed the Bachelor of Music Degree at the University of the Pacific and received a Master of Music Degree at Northern Arizona University.

Matesky is working on his doctoral dissertation after completing course requirements at the University of Washington.

Buff Golfers To Defend Title In MWU Tourney

West Texas State University's Buffaloes will defend the championship they won last fall in the third Midwestern University Intercollegiate Golf Tournament today and Friday in Wichita Falls.

The Buffaloes of coach Vern Farquhar will be led by veterans Jerry Boeka, John Hood and Andy Lawler. Others making the trip are junior college transfer Max Tenerio and freshman Bruce Butler.

Boeka, who was fifth in the Missouri Valley Conference tournament last spring and competed in the NCAA tourney at Stillwater, Okla., is the number one man on the Buffalo team.

Through 135 holes of qualifying, Boeka was 20 strokes under par while playing at Hunsley Hills Country Club in Canyon Club, Amarillo Country Club and Ross Rogers Municipal Course.

During those same qualifying rounds, Lawler was one stroke over par, Butler four over, Tenerio six over and Hood five over.

The tournament at Wichita Falls will be 36 holes today and 18 Friday at the Sheppard Air Force Base.

Other teams entered are Midwestern University, Austin College, Hardin-Simmons University, Texas Wesleyan College, Eastern New Mexico University, Cameron College, Oklahoma Baptist University, Abilene Christian College and Angelo State University.

The Buffaloes will play Sept. 28-29 in the Big Spring Collegiate Invitational Tournament.

"We should be stronger this fall than we were last year because of the playing strength of the fourth, fifth and sixth men," said Farquhar. "Boeka and Dick Weston, who was our lone senior, were our standouts last year. Randall Burton of Canyon, who played number three most of the year for us, didn't qualify for this tournament. That kind of competition should make us better than we were last year."

Hood is a Borger sophomore and Lawler is a senior from Dallas. Tenerio, a former Amarillo Caprock golfer, transferred from Western Texas Junior College at Snyder. Butler is from

Mean Green Of NTSU Next Buff Foe

West Texas State University will attempt to bounce back this week from the second worst football defeat in the school's history.

The Buffaloes fell 48-3 Saturday to the Golden Hurricane of Tulsa in Tulsa and tackle North Texas State University at Denton this week.

Saturday's 7:30 p.m. game in Denton will be another Missouri Valley Conference contest — the third in a row for the Buffaloes of coach Gene Mayfield.

Tulsa jumped into a 21-3 halftime lead and used big offensive plays in the second half to record the one-sided victory.

The loss to Tulsa dropped West Texas State's MVC record to 1-1. The Buffaloes had opened with a 13-10 victory over Drake's Bulldogs.

North Texas State will be playing its first home game in Fouts Field stadium for new coach Hayden Fry and the Eagles will also be seeking their first win of the season against two setbacks.

The Eagles lost to the University of Texas at Arlington, 31-7, in their Texas Stadium opener. They fell 24-3 at Memphis State Saturday night. The Memphis State loss wasn't that bad. Memphis State had defeated Louisville in its opener.

North Texas State held Memphis State to a minus 11 yards in the second half and led in first downs during the second half, 7-4.

Injuries hit West Texas hard in the Tulsa game. All-American candidate Billy Pritchett bruised his left knee on the game's third play and missed the remainder of the contest. It is not known if he will be able to play Saturday night.

Of the four tailbacks which saw action Saturday against Tulsa, only Rick Schleider came out of the game without any injuries. Cole Fraley and Jimmy Lisle also suffered various bruises.

Schleider will probably start at tailback this weekend and the other three will be limited with their playing time. Pritchett may not see action during the North Texas contest.

Mickey Matthews was probably the most seriously injured Buffalo Saturday night. The starting sophomore wingback suffered an injury to his left knee in the fourth quarter. He will miss at least the next two games.

Split end Mike Lozano, who alternated during the first two games with Carl Brown, will probably see some action at wingback against North Texas.

Linebacker Ben Colbert and corner back Dennis Little suffered ankle injuries against Tulsa. Colbert's injury was not progressing well at the start of the week and he may miss the North Texas State game. Little should be able to play.

North Texas has also been hit by the injury bug. Freshman Greg Van Ness will probably start at quarterback in place of slowed veteran Phil Shotland. The Eagle veteran suffered a foot injury in the opener and bruised a knee against Memphis State. He will, however, still see some playing time.

Tight end Frank Davis injured an eye against Memphis State and defensive end Rex Humbarger suffered a knee injury. Both Davis and Humbarger should be out of action Saturday night.

JV's Slip By Hereford 7-6

The Canyon High School Jr. Varsity slipped past the Hereford JV's 7-6 with less than two minutes left in the game.

David Coronado ran 30 yards for the tying touchdown and Rusty Holliday successfully kicked the extra point.

Hereford's only score came in the 3rd quarter with a touchdown. The conversion failed.

Leading ground gainer in the game for Canyon was Allen Shankles quarterback, with 48 yards. Rusty Holliday followed with 45 yards.

On defense, Kenny Basinger and Stan Prichard had four unassisted tackles each.

The players vote on the most valuable offensive and defensive lineman and back each week. Most valuable offensive lineman this week was Ricky Carter with David Coronado getting the vote for offensive back. Defensive lineman, Russell Scott and defensive backs Stan Prichard and Ron Mills took the honors for most valuable defense.

The Jr. Varsity meets Clovis tonight at 7:30 Texas time at Clovis, N.M.

$2 Million Budget Okayed By County

County commissioners approved a $2 million budget Monday which indicates the county will spend more than it takes in next year, but approved a tax roll which lessens the deficit by about $50,000.

Commissioners met no questions on the 1974 proposed budget as no residents attended the budget hearing.

The 1974 budget has an estimated total receipts of $1.199 million and total receipts and balances of $1,639,861 including a carryover balance of nearly $400,000 from 1973.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, told commissioners earlier in the meeting that the 1973 tax roll totals $685,988, which is about $50,000 more than commissioners had anticipated in the 1974 budget proposal as income.

This figure will help offset an anticipated $170,000 difference between estimated income and estimated expenditures. The remainder of the deficit will come from the surplus funds.

Total expenditures in the budget are $1,373,804.

Commissioners foresee a balance from the 1974 budget of $216,057.

Mrs. Bruse noted that the 1973 tax roll is $38,000 more than the 1972 roll, which supplies income for fiscal year 1973.

Bulk of the 1974 tax money will come from real property ad valorem taxes, that figure amounting to $484,913.

She said she is pushing to collect 100 per cent of the tax roll income. This year, she explained, she collected about 97 per cent.

In other business, commissioners for the second week passed over with barely a comment discussion of a proposed contract between city and county on sharing of services. The contract has been reviewed by Canyon city commissioners, who instructed City Manager George Loudder to present it to county commissioners.

County Judge Woody Pond gave commissioners copies of the contracts following the Monday meeting and said the item will be placed on next week's agenda.

Judge Pond told commissioners the county will be eligible in 1974 to receive funds allocated for construction of farm to market roads.

Commissioners authorized him to seek the funding with the top priority for construction to be an extension of Hunsley Road just a mile north of Canyon to the east to intersect with Washington Street.

Construction would entail building an overpass over U.S. 87. The road would provide another avenue of access to West Texas State University.

They also passed over discussion of an agreement between the City of Amarillo and Randall County on that city's provision of fire service to rural areas outside the city limits. Potter County commissioners have already approved a contract with the city allocating $875 for each fire call the city makes to rural fires.

Commissioners Bill Butler and Jim Fletcher have been meeting with Amarillo officials on the proposal and said Monday they will have a recommendation at next week's meeting.

Commissioners also:

*approved advertisement for bids for two new pickup trucks for the road maintenance department.

*heard a report on new laws on workmen's compensation by George Blackwell, local insuranceman.

*approved writing of a letter to the Texas Highway Commission requesting access ramps be provided on Interstate 27 at its intersection with the Palo Duro Club Road and the Hunsley Hills Road extension.

*approved participation with the state and the Santa Fe Railway for installation of grade crossing protections at the intersection of the Santa Fe tracks with Farmers Avenue crossing in the north part of the county.

CHS Tops Nation In Spanish Contest

Canyon High School was one of three schools in the nation receiving the top number of medals in the annual contest of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish.

Recently-announced test scores revealed that CHS, with six Spanish students receiving medals in first and second place divisions, tied with only two other American high schools as the school taking the most awards.

The contest examinations were presented in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, and the Canal Zone last spring.

Participating in the first-year Spanish category were about 10,700 students, including 4100 each in the first- and second-year Spanish level and 2500 in the third-year level.

Winning medals in the contest were CHS students Claire Daugherty (first place, Spanish III), Katherine Albers (second place, Spanish III), Julie Speer (first place, Spanish II), Teresa Dilworth (first place, Spanish II), Mary Townsend (first place, Spanish I), and Joan Albers (second place, Spanish I).

According to CHS Spanish instructor Ilona Smith, the only other competing schools to receive as many medals in the contest were Cardinal Gibbons High School in Baltimore, Md. and Wallace Rose Hill High School in Teachey, N.C.

All six of the CHS prize-winning students placed in the Top II of those taking the examinations at West Texas State University last March, Mrs. Smith said.

She added that the examinations are extremely rigorous and that participating students spend eight weeks in special coaching outside the classroom in preparation for the event.

Rotarians Host 6 From Finland

Six Rotarians from Finland spent the day Tuesday in Canyon and the area, viewing West Texas State University, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum and Palo Duro Canyon.

The six are touring the area as part of a group study exchange program in Rotary International.

They were guests at the Canyon Rotary Club meeting Tuesday and spoke briefly about Finland.

Among the Rotarians were a retired Finland Air Force colonel, a dentist, two engineers, a marketing manager and a secretary for a member of Parliament.

Also on the tour was the wife of the group leader, Klervo Mustonen.

Bjorn Harald Ronnloff, an engineer in a factory in Pargas, told the Canyon Rotarians that about 25 per cent of the Finn population is engaged in agriculture, while the agriculture industry produces only about seven per cent of the gross national product for that country.

Finland is a leading exporter of paper and wood products.

About 26 per cent of the population is involved in industry and about 20 per cent in various services.

Finland is a republic with a president and unicameral Parliament of 200 members, according to Ronnloff.

He said Finnish is spoken by about 92 per cent of the population and Swedish by about 7.4 per cent.

Dr. Travis McBride, professor and head of the political science department at WTSU, was principal guide for the seven.

City Student In LCC Choir

Barrie Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cox of 1300 25th St. in Canyon has been selected to be a member of Lubbock Christian College's A Capella Chorus.

A 1969 graduate of Canyon High School, Cox is a special art major.

Dr. Wayne Hinds, coordinator of LCC's Music Department is director and organizer of the 16-year-old organization.

LCC is now a fully accredited senior college offering liberal arts and pre-professional programs.
